CSA supports Galago Group on its acquisition of Northern Recruitment Group

Carlton Strategy Advisors has successfully supported Galago Group by providing commercial due diligence in connection with the company's acquisition of Northern Recruitment Group.

London-based Galago Group provides specialist contract, permanent and temporary recruitment services to clients in the healthcare, homecare and engineering and construction sectors in addition to the transport and logistics sector and industry.

Galago operates through four business subsidiaries Daksta, Nursdoc, Nursing Direct and Quicktemp, and the transaction adds Newcastle-upon-Tyne-based NRG Executive Search and Selection and Greenbean Recruitment Process Outsourcing to the Group.

Following the acquisition, Galago will work closely with NRG's existing senior management team, led by CEO, Therese Liddle, to support the continued growth of the business alongside its other subsidiaries.

Advisers to the transaction:

- Galago Group was advised by Castle Corporate Finance, led by managing director Stuart Stepney
- The shareholders of NRG were advised by Newcastle-based RGCF, led by partner and head of corporate finance Carl Swansbury
- The commercial due diligence was led by David McClelland, director of Carlton Strategy Advisors
